43. Which is true?
 (A) Betty is from Taiwan. (B) Allen is a Taiwanese.
 (C) Betty had lunch with Allen today. (D) Allen had a terrible host family.
- Bullying (霸凌) is when someone tries to hurt or embarrass (使...難堪) someone else again and again. At school, bullies are one of the largest problems for teachers. Bullying can also go on for adults, making work miserable (痛苦的, 難以承受) for some people. Being bullied causes a lot of stress (壓力) at any age. Students can be hurt both in their body and in their mind. A student's body might heal (治癒), but it can take much longer for the mind to heal. Bullying is a difficult problem, but there are solutions (解決的辦法).
 First, people must learn about bullying at a very young age and why it is so bad. This can be at school or at home with family. It can also be helpful to just walk away from a bully. Many bullies want to see their victim (受害者) react (做出反應). If the victim does not react, bullies often lose interest. If a bully does not stop, it's best to find someone for help right away. Friends, family, teachers, and even the police are all there to help students find solutions to their problems.

44. Who was bullied?
 (A) Leo. He was hit in the face by Ken when Leo refused to give Ken his lunch.
 (B) Sam. He said “ No, thanks.” to his classmate when he was given a cigarette.
 (C) Jim. Many friends asked him to join a study group when he did badly on tests or exams.
 (D) Bob. He borrowed some money from Pete and promised to give it back in a few days.
45. What may be a good way to stop oneself from being bullied?
 (A) Doing one’s best to react when being bullied. (B) Staying at home the whole day.
 (C) Skipping school all the time. (D) Bravely say “No” and walk away from a bully.
46. Which is NOT true about bullying?
 (A) It is a difficult problem, so it cannot be solved. (B) It may cause lots of stress for people of all ages.
 (C) One can ask the police for help when being bullied. (D) It takes much long for the mind to heal.

● Postage Stamps (郵票) Feature ‘Taiwan Daily’ Impressions

Two young designers (設計師) created a series of postage stamps, named “Taiwan Daily” - a series of impressions (印象) of Taiwan, including food, street scenes and traditional objects (傳統物品).

Highlights include “Shitiping (石梯坪)” in Taitung, the red plastic chair, local bananas, Taiwanese omelet (蛋餅), Taiwan black dog, the little red traffic light man, instant noodles, Taiwan beer and more

When you walk through the streets in Taiwan, the design and glaring colors of the shop signs catch people’s attention. With this in mind, the designers used vivid (鮮豔的) and contrasting (高對比的) colors often seen in Taiwan’s streets to create a one-of-a-kind (獨一無二的) series of stamps.

“What we are trying to capture is the touching moments of everyday life, an introduction of the studio reads. If you slow down, you will find ordinary things very interesting.”

47. According to this article, what will one NOT see in this series of postage stamps?
 (A) Traditional plastic chairs (B) Beautiful Taroko Gorge
 (C) A new smartphone (D) Famous Taiwanese snacks
48. Where can one read this article?
 (A) Medical Weekly Report (B) Taiwan Designers (C) Food News (D) Science and Technology

● Enjoy World-Class Design During Taipei-Hualien Travel

The first direct bus service between Taipei and Hualien kicked off (啟用) on Jan. The shuttle bus service offers two routes: “Nangang-Hualien” and “Banqiao-Hualien.” Travel between the two destinations usually takes 3.5 hours and costs around US$10.5.

The interior (內部的) space, which is mostly white, shows the simple beauty of Taiwan. The designers used spacious (寬敞的) seats and blue pebble-shaped adjustable headrests to increase the passengers’ comforts over the long journey.

Furthermore, all signs are bilingual (雙語的) and include icons, creating a friendly experience for foreign passengers.

49. Jimmy, Natasha, and their two friends decide to take to bus from Hualien to Taipei. How much should they pay?
 (A) NT$42 (B) NT$200 (C) US$31.5 (D) NT$1,280
50. According to this message, what will one NOT see in the bus?
 (A) Signs with only Chinese. (B) Simple and beautiful white design.
 (C) Comfortable chairs for travelers. (D) Blue and round-shaped headrests.
